Ratings (From 2 Votes): 1.00 Ouch! 01/02/2019 Dino Aaslan Pk Verified Reviewer Bought this to replace a huge Spanish app called "Prima". The app is pretty good but it's a bit... over the top in the way the interface behaves. It gives the impression to be a fairly buggy program. For instance, it tends to freeze on rare occasions. There's no real controls for almost everything. There's no switch for auto-saving. Usually the program will run fine for a while and then when you try to change something or enter some specific information, it'll just stop. It will not respond to anything. It will only close and you'll have to re-start it. In all cases it's not a particularly long wait so I'm guessing it's a bug in the program. It's pretty difficult to find bugs in Android's applications. Another problem is that the help screen doesn't really say much more than the thing in the menus. So if you're unable to find a menu or a button or something, you'll just sit there and sit. Is it even possible to get an English version? It is quite highly recommended. So why does it seem to be so buggy? Well, it has two modes of operation; a touchscreen mode and a "mouse" mode. It runs as a mouse in the Windows environment. In the "mouse" mode, there are two buttons for changing functions (Next and previous). One is the actual button, which does the function, while the other activates an arrow on a circular switch. When you click on the circle, it changes the function you're doing. So it switches between temperature conversions and weather info. In the touchscreen mode, it has nothing but a few buttons. There's a button to turn it on and off. There's the function you choose between Temperature and Weather. There's the switch to b7e8fdf5c8

There will be multiple files for multiple different lines. A: You can avoid overwriting the old file by opening a new file before writing a new file. Here's how you do that: outfile = open(new_path, 'w') # open a new file for line in loglist: if(line == 'start '): shutil.copy(path, new_path) outfile.write("start ") This will now create a brand new log file with the name of new_path. You may also want to append a newline character at the end of the string to ensure the end of the line looks right. This can be done as follows: outfile =
